Challenges faced by students

- Lack of practical knowledge
Only 50% of Indian graduates do an internship once in their graduation
- Lack of technical knowledge
Freshers lack the basic knowledge of the software & applications that are required for the job profiles
- No hands-on experience
A freshers professional life suffers a lot in the beginning due to the lack of first hand experience.
- Poor interview skills
Lack of interview preparation skills results in low employability

Subject: Thanks and appreciation

Madam,

We appreciate the students of Nirmala Memorial Foundation College of Commerce and Science for the outstanding efforts and dedication showed by them for conducting a session on “English Sessions: Building Language Skills” for underprivileged children. The session was conducted online on Tuesday, 25th April 2023.

The session was thoughtfully designed and flawlessly executed. The range of engaging and interactive initiatives provided a platform for children to build their vocabulary and generate interest in the English language. The exercises, games, and discussions were not only entertaining but also enriched the knowledge of students.

We express our gratitude to the volunteers who dedicated their time and energy to make this event a resounding success. Their smiling faces and willingness to go the extra mile left a lasting impression on all those who attended.

Once again, I extend my heartfelt appreciation to you and your entire team for your exceptional efforts in organizing and conducting this remarkable session. We look forward to work together for social initiatives.
